

An Eight-Year Competitive Test

PACOLET MANUFACTURING CO.
BROWN SHEETINGS AND DRILLS
Spartanburg, S. C. May 10th, 1913

Pease-Gault Co., Louisville, Ky.

Gentlemen—

After considering our village at New Holland, Pa., we experimented with some half dozen various brands of paint by dividing our village up into sections of ten houses each and painting each ten with a different brand.

On one section of ten houses we used Lead and Oil, the other five sections we used paints mostly used in this section and considered to be the leading brands.

After eight years we find that the ten cottages covered with "MASTIC PAINT" are in better condition and stand the test better than any of the others, even including Lead and Oil. We find further that the houses were all of the same architecture, weatherboarded with long leaf yellow pine of the same grade, having same exposure to the sun that is, none of them were partially protected by shade trees, but fully exposed.

We are well pleased with the results of the "MASTIC PAINT" and can heartily recommend same to any one who is a buyer.

Yours truly,

CLEVER

Is a Minstrel Show, Given by the Local Lodge of Order of Moose.

A fairly well filled house greeted the first annual minstrel performance of the Loyal Order of Moose lodge, No. 52, which was presented at the Robinson Grand Monday evening. The attraction was the initial attempt of the local Moose and was staged under the direction of Sam Ridenour and Reno Fleming, both of Fairmont, who are connected with the Big City Production Company.

Local talent composed the entire cast and it was the first time before the footlights for many of the cast. Speaking as a whole the performance was well received by the audience present. The show was good and those taking part deserve much credit.

The first part was composed of a circle setting of twenty-four black face exponents with Harry Wasman in the role of interlocutor, a part he filled well, and with Sam Ridenour and Leland Davis as the premier end men. Ridenour and Davis, especially so, were good in the end men roles, the latter scoring the decided hit of the first part with his song entitled "Rap, Rap, Rap."

Songs rendered during the first part besides the many catchy and local colored jokes, were, "I'm Going Fishing," by John Smith; "When the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," by Mr. Ward; "My Rosary Dreams," by Mr. Boyer; "In Ragtime Land," by Jim Smith; "What's the Use Moving When You've Got no Place to Go," by Sam Ridenour; "Good-Bye Rose," by Mr. Fawcett, and "Rap, Rap, Rap," by Leland Davis. The decided hit of the evening's entertainment was the first number of the olio, Bruce Wallace, presenting songs, parodies and stories. Mr. Wallace showed the ear-marks of a professional and many of the audience are still under the impression that he is a "profess." Why Mr. Wallace (trims windows for Mill-fens when the "big time" looks easy for him, is a mystery to those who heard him last night.

The rest of the olio consisted of two short sketches in which the entire company took part, "Halloween Spell," by Reno Fleming, and "Rams-shackle's Ragtime Ball," by the same author. Both of the sketches were well received and the performance was voted a success by all who saw it.

THERE ARE IMITATIONS NOW

But Newbro's Herpicide Was the "First Dandruff Germ Destroyer."

A discovery can be made but once. After that all similar acts become emulation, imitation or an attempt at substitution.

Newbro's Herpicide is a discovery. It was the first remedy ever given to science to kill the dandruff germ. Other preparations have since been offered to the public, some similar in appearance, some in odor, but all bringing the daring promise of doing the same things that Herpicide has been doing for years.

Every article of this kind is merely one more instance of vicious emulation, vile imitation or a base attempt at substitution.

The "something just as good" story is old, why give it a thought? Herpicide is the Original Remedy. It destroys the dandruff and prevents the hair from falling. Itching of the scalp stops almost with the first application.

Don't be deceived by "Something just as good." If your own druggist does not keep the genuine dandruff germ destroyer, Newbro's Herpicide, go to one who does.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. T., Detroit, Mich. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops. Parsons-Souders Co., Special Agents—Advertisement.
